

JOHNS HOPKINS I N S T I T U T I O N S

SIXTH ANNUAL DIVERSITY CONFERENCE

Leadership: Transforming Diversity into Inclusion

Thursday, November 5, 2009

8:00 am – 2:00 pm

Johns Hopkins University, Homewood Campus

3400 N. Charles Street

Baltimore, Maryland 21218

The Diversity Leadership Council invites you to attend the Sixth Annual Diversity Conference.

This year's conference theme is – Leadership: Transforming Diversity into Inclusion.

Plenary Speaker

Deborah Elam, VP & Chief Diversity Officer
General Electric

Luncheon Speaker

Adam Falk, Dean
Johns Hopkins University
Zanvyl Krieger School of Arts and Sciences

The conference will offer a total of 27 workshops that will cover a wide range of diversity topics in Session I and Session II.

The event will open with registration check-in at 8:00 a.m., and will officially begin with a plenary session at 8:30 a.m. in the Shriver Hall Auditorium, followed by various workshops. The event will conclude at 2:00 p.m.

The luncheon is limited to the first 400 people who register, so please encourage your colleagues to register early.

Registration is available online until October 26, 2009 at <http://my.johnshopkins.edu/> or <http://my.jhmi.edu/>.

We hope that you will take this opportunity to join other members of the Johns Hopkins Institutions by attending this conference. Your presence will make a difference.

Please e-mail all inquiries to diversity_conference@jhu.edu.